PARISH NEWS

St. Paul Leisure Club will resume meetings on Tuesdays at 1pm in the school cafeteria starting Sept. 10. New members welcome.

Ftu Shot Day - Sun., Sept. 22, 8:30am - 2pm in the church hall, Free for Medicare, Medicaid and most private insurances, free voucher for no coverage, sponsored by Duane Reade pharmacy.

Rel. Ed. News - Realizing that the modern family lives in a "rushed" schedule, Cardinal Egan mandated that each Rel. Ed. Program provide a meal for the family to eat together and a project for the family to work together.

Thanks to donations of food from our parishioners, willing hands to set-up, cook & clean-up; willing hearts of our Catechists & helpers who volunteer their time each Sat. & Sun. to teach and form our children in our Catholic faith. This commissioning of our Catechists and the Family Breakfast will take place Sun., Sept 15, at 9:15 mass & Breakfast in Gym

The Year in Faith

Catechetical Sunday has always been an important observance in the calendar of the Church. Parishes have used it as an occasion in which the contributions of catechists have been recognized. Programs are opened to receive students. And the Church recognizes that passing on the faith is her primary mission. This is especially true during this year in which Pope Benedict and Pope Francis have called us to "Open the Door of Faith". It is important for us to reflect on this theme and decide for ourselves and our communities how we can concretize its expression. First, we must realize that the task of opening is not one given merely to bishops, priests or deacons. It is for all baptized to appreciate the gift they have been given through the sacrament of belonging and to offer what they themselves have received.

How do we open the door? As one would expect: one of the means is preaching. Preaching during the Mass is helpful only if we are open to what is being proclaimed. Pray to the Holy Spirit that you might receive generously the word of God's wisdom.

Last week in one of the parishes a priest told a story of Juliette. Week after week she would visit a woman who was in need for food. She told them she was no longer Catholic. They listened patiently and certainly prayed for her. After a long while she stated that she might return to the practice of the faith. Her example was preaching. Her example was an invitation for the woman to reassess her life, her faith, and her relationship with Christ. The young girl of the story is a provider of the truth that we never know the effect our actions might have on other people.

What is sometimes ignored is the fact that our attitude often evangelizes or causes the opposite effect. When people come to our parishes are they greeted warmly? Especially if they are not from the community or are new to the area. When we are walking along the street do we take time to smile at a passerby? When we see someone struggling with packages or their children do we offer them help? Such things might seem minor but they are the seedbed of faith. We remember that God provides the seeds but we must assist in the maturing of a faith-filled life. Many of the saints recall that it was because of the responses of a friend, neighbor, or stranger that caused them to reflect on the need for conversion.

We are Catholics. We are Witnesses. We are Evangelizers.
