Thank you for your generosity!

In our society we have come to isolate one force against another, one position against its opposite, one party against its opponent - liberal versus conservative. Our social cohesiveness is not as strong as it used to be because essential freedoms and basic societal definitions are now over shadowed by those for or against. We are particularly sensitive to various definitions of human life and marriage that have appeared and are now contesting essential notions that we took for granted. It is almost as if we are speaking a different language with each other. Society is divided and so are our politics. Consensus through mediation and debate is dead. This situation was obvious in the working of the recent Congress wherein little was accomplished for the benefit of the whole country. Hardened positions prevented dialogue and compromise.

Our readings awaken us to seek the truth from wherever it comes, not to settle or make-believe, but commit oneself to truth. This may be hard for real truth is not just an abstraction, but is a reality which may demand a change in one's life. It is as God created it - not subject to the whims and fancies of society.

We must make it our constant duty to live by the truth especially that which is God's word. "Your word, O Lord, is truth; consecrate us in the truth."

Fr. James Healy
