We extend to all our mothers a very happy and blessed Mother's Day. All their sacrifices and love are deeply appreciated and we want them to know this, that our prayers are with them today.

Our Prayer for Vocations to Religious Life as Sisters, Brothers, and Deacons :

Loving and Generous God, it is You who calls us by name and asks us to follow You. Help us to grow in the love and service of our Church as we experience it today.

Grant us faith-filled leaders who will embrace Christ's Mission of love and justice. Bless the Church by raising up dedicated and generous leaders from our families and friends who will serve your people as Sisters, Brothers, and Deacons.

Inspire us to know You better and open our hearts to hear Your call.

We ask this through the intercession of Mary the Mother of the Church and through the saving grace of our Lord, Jesus Christ. Amen.

Among the many concerns of the early Church was the need to take care of the more dependent members of the Church - the widows, the orphans, foreigners. This necessitated the creation of deacons - dedicated to serving the nascent communities. The apostles prayed over them and upon them laid their hands thus empowering them in their ministry. Passing on their faith in Christ was the early Church's main concern. Both to Jews and non-Jews (Gentiles) the good news of salvation won by the crucified and resurrected Christ impelled them to reach out. Groups formed and both homes and synagogues were places to gather for prayer and praise. In some settings 'the breaking of the bread' was celebrated and thus we see the beginnings of Eucharist. As time went by, the life and gospel of Jesus was passed on orally and then written accounts came to be executed. The oral accounts were in Aramaic; the common language that Jesus spoke, and the written accounts were in Greek. Between 65AD and 70AD the first of the Synoptic Gospels, Mark, was written. It was called 'synoptic' because of its similarity to the gospels of Matthew and Luke. It was written for non-Palestinian Christians of pagan origin. Matthew's gospel was written about 70AD and addressed itself to Jewish Christians. The last of the synoptic gospels was written by Luke, a physician and of pagan origin. He wrote primarily for Gentiles and showed a favoritism for minorities, segregated groups, and the underprivileged. Samaritans, lepers, publicans, public sinners, unlettered shepherds, the poor - all received encouragement from him.

So you see that from the beginning Christ's message was for everyone. No one was to be ignored. Special effort was made to reach those generally forgotten in society.
